For a violation of the above regulation the water will be shut off and a fine of two dollars will be charged before water will be turned on again.

LOCAL ISSUES.

The Bean Crop Will Pass Through Los Angeles.

RAILROAD MAN'S RESIGNATION.

What the New President of the Santa Fe Intends to Do. Other News.

Shipments of the bean crop are now beginning from Ventura and Santa Barbara. Half a dozen cars have been started on their way east. A car contains about 350 sacks of sixty pounds each, a total of about 20,000 pounds to the car. They are quoted at $1.90 per hundred weight.

There are no means at hand for making a very close estimate of the total crop. The total acreage under cultivation is said to be about one-third larger than last year, but there is no probability that the total crop will be that much larger. The succession of very hot days which prevailed about six weeks ago had the effect of ripening and drying the beans a little too rapidly. This does not in the slightest degree impair their quality, but has served to decrease the weight. The last year's crop, according to the ILLUSTRATED HERALD, was over seven millions of pounds or 350 carloads. The estimate for this year is from 400 to 450 cars. It value may be roughly estimated at from a million and a half to a million and three-quarters of dollars—one of the finest sources of wealth that exists in this section.

The chief drawback about this product has been in the past that only in a limited degree was it of profit to this city or county. It was shipped by way of San Francisco and handled by the northern commission men. The reason for this was that the Southern Pacific charged an arbitrary rate $1.10 a hundred from Ventura, while the rate from San Francisco, a terminal point, was only $1.00. The beans were therefore, for the most part, sent north by the Pacific Coast Steamship line at a cost of seven and a half cents a hundred, and then re-shipped from San Francisco. In this way the dealers saved a margin of two and a half cents a hundred. The recent reduction made by the Steamship Company in their rates made this margin in favor of the northern dealers even larger, and at one time it looked as though the entire crop of this season would go that way.

On the 25th of last month, however, the Southern Pacific made an important change in the rate at which this article is to be shipped. The rate from Ventura and way stations along the line through the bean-producing country will henceforth be the same as from Los Angeles and from San Francisco, viz.: $1.00. Thus it comes to pass that the margin is all in favor of the Los Angeles commission men.

The result is beginning to show itself. One Los Angeles merchant, for example, F. M. Keach, has contracted to dispose of nearly 200 carloads, and others are getting large consignments. The entire crop will in all probability be handled through this city, to the advantage of the commerce of this section, as well as to the producers themselves.

THE SANTA FE.

The Resignation of Mr. Holterhoff, of the Treasurer's Office.

Changes in the personnel at the Santa Fe offices have been thus far merely matters of expectation. Some of them are well enough known in advance, but it is generally conceded that nothing is to be gained by their publication.

Yesterday morning Godfrey Holterhoff, the Chief Clerk in the Treasurer's office, tendered his resignation, and it was accepted. Mr. Holterhoff has been in the employ of the company longer than any other man now with the company in this city. It is understood that the resignation was offered some time ago, and that although Mr. Holterhoff leaves the company for a time, he will return when the new administration has rearranged things somewhat. It is dimly hinted in fact that when Treasurer Silver's resignation takes effect Mr. Holterhoff will come in for promotion.

The Kansas City Star, of the 21st ult., prints the following interview with President Allen Manvel. The newly-appointed President said:

"I have only been on the road a few weeks, and cannot state positively what will be done. In fact, I have not yet become conversant with the road. I cannot say that there will be no changes, nor can I say there will be material changes. One thing is certain—we are going to try to run the road so as to earn the greatest amount of money at the smallest possible expense."

"Will there be a consolidation of all the roads under one general management and set of officers?"

"I have heard no discussion of that subject as yet, and as I have been in control so short a time, it would be impossible for me to answer that question. What we want is to make money for the Santa Fe, and everything looking to that end will be done. This will be my first trip over the Santa Fe system, and after I have learned something of its workings I shall be in a position to state more definitely what the purposes of the road are.

"I shall have my office in Chicago," continued President Manvel, "and so will the General Traffic Manager. Chicago will be the best place for the seat of my operations—much better than Boston. It is always best to be close to the scene of operations. Chicago is also the best place for the General Traffic Manager and General Passenger Agent, although in respect to the latter official I am not now prepared to state where he will be stationed. The rest of the offices will remain at Topeka."

"Do you intend to place a fast passenger train service on the Chicago branch?"

"We will do anything and everything that will make money for the Santa Fe, as well as to give the public good, efficient and satisfactory service. The Chicago division is one of the straightest and best lines in the western country. A little repairing here and there and good ballasting will put that line in excellent shape, and wonderfully quick time can be accomplished over it."

The DeLuna Case.

The case of the Mexican woman claiming $45,000 damages for the killing of Miguel DeLuna by the Southern Pacific Company was partially tried yesterday before Judge Shaw. A jury was impaneled and several witnesses put on the stand. Most of the testimony introduced was to show that the death of DeLuna was the result of the railroad accident. The defense put no obstacle in the way of the witnesses on those points, as the killing is confessed. The line of defense is that the accident was the fault of the crew of the construction train, and that even if damages were payable by the company the woman in question is not entitled to receive the money.

The plaintiff was on the stand and testified that she was the wife of the deceased. When the railroad attorneys took her for cross-examination they made it lively for her. The testimony extracted from herself went to show that she was about the worst married woman in the country. She bore marital relations to a great many men. The defense will try to break down the claim that she was properly the wife of De Luna But this side of the case will be heard today.

EDUCATION HONORED.

Prizes to California at the Paris Exposition.

There was a grand time at the Paris Exposition on Sunday. The President and his Ministers occupied tribunes, flanked by the Ambassadors of all nations, and M. Berger announced the prizes awarded. These consisted of 903 grand prizes, 5,133 gold medals, and 8,070 honorable mentions. The State of California was honored, especially in her school department, by the Committee on Awards. Here are the items of prizes awarded to California.

Department of Public Instruction, gold medal.

Public schools, gold medal.

University of California, gold medal.

California State Viticulturist Commission, gold medal.

C. A. Wetmore, California wines, grand prize.

Chanche & Co., California wines, gold medal.

Megliaralia, Napa, wines, gold medal.

It will be recollected that Governor Waterman appointed a Commissioner to the Paris Exposition from this State. The fellow turned out to be a fraud, and after the exhibits of a great many representative houses and industries had been forwarded to his care, he failed to turn up, and the contributions were found boxed up long after the fair had opened. It is doubtful if any of these contributions ever got a place in the exhibition.

A PRODUCERS' UNION.

It Holds a Meeting at Cahuenga. Action Taken.

A meeting of producers was held at Cahuenga yesterday evening, for the purpose of bringing about a union. Mr. Duffy presided and Mr. Cole served as Secretary. The matter of forming a permanent producers' union was given full discussion, and it was decided to enter into an organization having for its objects the better protection of the farmer.

The sugar beet question was also taken into consideration. It was determined to ascertain just how many acres were available for the production of sugar beets. Each ranch owner was requested to prepare a contract of the number of acres which he would be willing to put to that use in case a factory could be started in that vicinity. It is proposed when the requisite amount of acreage has been pledged to take definite steps to secure the organization of the factory.

Amusements.

The Messrs Murray and Murphy will appear in their Irish drolleries at a matinee today and the season will close tonight. For the remainder of the week the Grand will be closed.

Next week Kit the Arkansaw Traveller will hold the boards for the first time in this city.

"Kit, the Arkansaw Traveler."

Mr. Henry Chanfrau, the American comedian, supported by the Alcazar Theater company, of which Miss Ethel Brandon is at the head, will make his first appearance in this city at the Grand on Monday, October 7th, and continue for three nights in the old play, Kit, the Arkansaw Traveler, which has outlived all others of its type, having now been before the public for some twenty years. It never fails to draw crowded houses.

New Cases.

Byram W. Bates asks to be permitted to go into voluntary insolvency. His assets are put at $1,525 and his liabilities at $10,225.

Miguel Martinez sues Pedro Uhaltegaray for $500 damages for an assault.

W. J. Dougherty asks for letters of administration on the estate of Charles Dougherty deceased.

J. A. Venable sues A. A. Montano and others for $60.30 due on street assessment.

J. F. Blythe sues Jesse Rose for $2,000 due on a note secured by mortgage.

William Whittaker asks to be allowed to go into voluntary insolvency. His assets are put at $1,000 and his liabilities at $2,179.

The Fair Closes.

There was a very poor attendance at the Fair during the day yesterday, and in the evening it did not pick up to the extent that was expected. The Seventh Regiment band was on hand and rendered a good programme. Those who were present appeared to enjoy the evening.

The ill-success which has attended the Fair this week has caused the Directors to decide to close it immediately instead of continuing it through three days, as was originally planned.

Receiver Silver's Bond.

Mr. Herman Silver, the new Receiver of the "Lap," came into court yesterday with his bond for $50,000, signed by responsible sureties. A technical flaw of trifling moment was discovered by the lynx-like eyes of the man of law, and the bond had to be corrected in this respect. Today it will be filed in due form.

Contracts Discussed Before the Law Students.

A VERY INTERESTING LECTURE.

Good Feeling Between Los Angeles and Chicago—Other Events of Local Interest.

The regular meeting of the members of the Law Students' Association held last night in Judge Van Dyke's courtroom, in the Abstract building, was well attended by both the students and members of the bar, every seat in the room being occupied.

The proceedings were opened by President F. M. Raymund, who announced that the meeting closed the administration of the first officers of the association, which was founded three months ago by Mr. Leroy Peyton, now of San Francisco, but formerly of this city. In a brief but interesting address Mr. Raymund reviewed the progress of the association since its permanent organization on the first Tuesday in July last, and on its conclusion vacated the chair in favor of the President-elect, Mr. I. B. Dockweiler.

That gentleman on taking the post of honor made a very short inaugural address, and introduced the lecturer of the evening, Colonel George H. Smith, who, in an interesting lecture, which lasted nearly two hours and a half, set forth the "Elements of the Law of Contract." The speaker began by explaining that a contract, according to section 1,549 of the Civil Code, was defined as "an agreement to do or not to do a certain thing," which he announced as the correct definition. He stated, however, that Blackstone's definition, which was somewhat similar, was more generally followed; but both were defective in that they did not include executed contracts, grants, sales, and many others. Nearly every book bearing on the subject of contracts differs with itself as to the definition of the word. The lecturer laid great stress upon the definitions of words in general, and said that as they lie at the bottom of every social science, the student could not spend too much time or take too much trouble to thoroughly learn a correct definition. Colonel Smith then proceeded with detailed explanations of the various kinds of contracts, citing the authorities first in every instance, and then elucidating their salient points more fully by examples. He next went into the question of the functions of a contract and the place which is accorded to it in law, explaining that its function was to afford a means for the transfer of rights from one person to another. This opened a fresh subject, that of events, the lecturer having said that every right originates in some event; and he stated that the subject of events was one of the most important in law. They were divided into two classes, volitional and non-volitional. The original and fundamental right of man to contract his own faculties originated in the simple event of his birth, was modified by the event of his coming of age, and was lost by death. From this subject Colonel Smith passed on to that of the two classes of human acts, lawful and unlawful acts, and he proceeded to the division of rights into two classes, viz., ownership and obligation. He alluded to the deficiency of the English and American law books in their scientific treatment of the subject under discussion, and spoke in eulogistic terms of the works of several foreign jurists, which he said were frequently quoted by the courts in this country at the present time.

The question of who were capable of making contracts was then brought up for discussion and thoroughly gone into by the lecturer, who concluded with a dissertation upon the question of how far the validity of a contract depended upon the subject of consideration.

CHICAGO AND LOS ANGELES.

A More Favorable Sentiment Beginning to Prevail in the East.

Colonel F. A. Eastman, a well known newspaper man of Los Angeles, has been spending the summer in Chicago. He returned from the East last night. A former resident of Chicago and for many years actively identified with its interests, Colonel Eastman is well qualified to know what the sentiments of that community are on any question. His says that a considerable change has taken place in the way in which Southern California is now regarded in the East.

A year and three months ago when Colonel Eastman visited Chicago to attend the Republican Convention he found that a considerable prejudice had sprung up among the people in general against Southern California. It was always spoken of as a land of a bursted boom. The vanguard of unlucky speculators was beginning to make its appearance, and extravagant falsehoods of all kinds were in circulation. Even the climate was maligned and declared vastly below representation. Whatever consideration was given the State was largely in favor of the northern portion.

On his recent visit the Colonel declares he found an entirely different sentiment prevailing, and the people of Chicago are looking to Southern California as a sort of future land of promise. The indications for tourist travel and for immigration, he says, are better than ever before, and there is general confidence in the coming prosperity of this section. It will be remembered that a good many millions of Chicago capital went into the cable railway. This stock is scattered among three or four hundred of the wealthiest and most active people of the Lake City. The prompt success which has come to this road since its cables started has taught the Chicago people something, and they discover that there is perhaps more strength and vitality in this city than they had supposed.

Colonel Eastman also affirms that times appear to be very hard all through the Northwest, and that during a good many years of residence in Chicago he never heard so much talk of poverty and business depression as he has been compelled to listen to this summer. Evidently dullness in business matters is not restricted to this section.

THE SOLDIERS' HOME.

Testimony Taken by the Board of Managers.

NO BURIALS IN PAUPER GRAVES.

All Sorts of Grievances Which Had Not Been Reported to the Governor.

Yesterday was a red letter day for all connected with the Soldiers' Home near Santa Monica, As announced in yesterday's HERALD, the Board of Managers was on the ground, making their annual tour, and it was of course understood that they intended to make a complete investigation of the charges preferred against Col. Treichel, Governor of the institution. On the 10 o'clock train, over the Los Angeles and Pacific, there arrived from Los Angeles a number of the members of the G. A. R. committee, which was appointed some time ago to inquire into the accusations made by the Tribune. At Governor Treichel's home quite a representative number of gentlemen were assembled, when, at 11 o'clock, the work of the day began. There were present the Board of Managers, consisting of Col. Leonard A. Harris, First Vice-President, who during the absence of General Franklin in Paris is fulfilling the duties of Chairman; Col. J. B. Thomas, Governor of the Dayton, Ohio, Home, and Col. H. H. Markham, Local Manager of the Pacific Branch of the Soldiers' Homes; also the G. A. R. committee, consisting of Col. Mudge, J. E. McComas, Erwin Barr, W. B. Van Kirk, S. H. Young, E. A. Meiggs and Capt. Shaw; and in addition to these there were Col. H. G. Otis, of the Times, H. Z. Osborne, of the Express, General Johnson and representatives of the daily papers.

The hours before noon were devoted by all to looking about the grounds and talking to the veterans who were assembled in knots about their quarters talking over the situation and discussing the probable outcome of the inquiry. It was officially given out that any complaints that were to be made would be heard by the board in session at 1 p. m., and naturally those who wished to air their grievances, did not make their usual trip to town. The HERALD man managed to secure a few minutes conversation with Colonels Harris, Thomas and Markham, and asked them what they thought of the condition of affairs at the Home. They all expressed themselves as well satisfied with the general run of things, and declared that the new water works were answering all their expectations. Speaking of the lack of appropriations, Colonel Harris remarked that the board would apply for $269,000 for the Santa Monica Home, at the next Congress, as a great deal of money was needed for construction purposes. It would not, however, be available, he said, before the 30th of next June.

When the subject of the charges against Governor Treichel was brought up the managers announced that they would not express any opinion at present, but that they intended to make a thorough examination of everything, hear every complaint and in each instance investigate. How long they would remain here they did not know, but Colonel Harris said that they would stay until they cleared up everything.

During the conversation Colonel Harris stated that he was much surprised when in the East he heard that the old soldiers who died here were buried in paupers' graves. Since his arrival here on Sunday he had looked into the matter very thoroughly, and had found that every veteran had had a Christian and an honored funeral. As to the graveyard, it was as pretty and as nice a place as could be desired.

About noon luncheon was served to the visitors at Colonel Treichel's residence, and the hospitable Governor and his brother made every one feel comfortable and well satisfied during their stay in the home quarters. When the repast was concluded adjournment was taken to the Governor's offices at the south end of the grounds and there

THE INVESTIGATION BEGAN.

Col. Harris conducted the examination, Col. Markham cross-examined and Col. Thomas sat between them, listening carefully to all that transpired. The visiting G. A. R., committeemen and the other guests were also accommodated with seats, but besides these the room was kept clear, an orderly being posted at the door with instructions to only admit one witness at a time.

George Davis was the first complainant. He said that he considered Governor Treichel subject to mental aberration. He thought so from his general observations. He was not there actually to complain, but he did not think that the quantity and quality of the food was good. He complained that he did not get any meat from Thursday to Saturday, evidently forgetting that Friday was a fish day.

James Kelly was the next. He said that he had applied to the Governor for a furlough, and that it was refused, whereupon he had left the Home. He had no other complaint, but he wanted to know if he could get back in the Home later on. He was told "Yes, if he behaved himself."

Thomas Keller next appeared. He said that the food was good for a well man, but not for one in his condition, as he was sick. He had no fault to find with the Doctor, but he thought that the hospital fare should be better.

Thomas Graham said that he had to complain of injustice on the part of Col. Treichel. He had been brought before Sergeant McCall on the charge of making a disturbance, but the Governor would not hear the evidence he wished to produce. Witness also complained of the food, and said he had occasionally to leave the table unsatisfied.

Charles Shaw, another hospital patient, was next, and said that he had very little cause of complaint. He, however, did not have sufficient nourishment, although he sat at the convalescent table. He wanted a change of diet, and Col. Harris said the surgeon would arrange that for him.

David Stevenson next testified. He said that he was the shoemaker of the Home, and that he thought he ought to have more pay, for he was only getting the same remuneration now that he had when there were 300 men, whereas now there were 400 men. Colonel Harris informed him that his case would be attended to.

James Halpin, an ex-member of the Yountville Home said that he had to complain about the bread, that it was so hard that he could not eat it. The butter was good but the meat not. Witness dwelt a good deal on the bread being hard but admitted that his teeth were bad, he being 65 years of age.

Jno. McKenna also formerly of Yountville was next on the stand. He was a hospital patient and thought that he was not being properly treated as regards diet.

E. C. Ketchum complained that when he arrived he was shown the road to the barracks and was told that that was the trail to Castle Garden. The potatoes were sometimes bad and the meat tough. The coffee and tea were good, the butter good and the bread very good. The hash was too rich.

M. L. Higgins said that he was a disappointed man for he did not think that the Governor was the father to the men he should be. He also complained about the flag not flying. The food he thought was good for men of health but not for old men. The coffee was bad. He complained about the Quartermaster and called him a beastly brute. Said he had never reported him to the Governor.

J. A. Bolton said that he had no complaint whatever on his own account, and then he spoke about the treatment of a couple of his friends. Before going he paid a compliment to Superintendent Goodall, whom he said had been much maligned.

Jno. Glancy complained about the Quartermaster and said that he could not get the clothes he wanted. He did not tell the Governor. He also complained about the board.

Wm. G. Stoughton said that he had no personal antipathy against the Governor, but the management was bad.

W. J. Moore complained that he had done work as a teamster and had only received $7 a month, whereas the civilians working alongside him had $10 a month.

Jno. Collins said that the food was poor. He said that when visitors came special provisions were put on the table.

Ernest Wirneke complained about the tough quality of the food, but admitted that his teeth were bad.

H. A. Russell said that he could not substantiate what had been credited to him in the Tribune. He had no complaints against the Governor.

Daniel Etter was a most vivacious witness. He said that under the circumstances everything about the Home was all right, but that he thought the food might be better.

At this point the visitors from Los Angeles were compelled to leave, and the investigation was closed.

The Board of Managers decided to hear what the members of the G. A. R. Committee have to say this morning. They request the committee to leave Los Angeles on the 10 o'clock train this morning over the Los Angeles and Pacific railroad.

THE DENTISTS.

They Meet and Listen to Interesting Addresses.

The annual session of the Southern California Odontological Society commenced yesterday morning at the Nadeau, President J. M. White in the chair, and the following members present: Drs. J. M. White, C. B. Baldwin, G. A. Millard, Los Angeles; G. R. Purnell, J. C. McCoy, Santa Ana; R. H. Shoemaker, Pasadena; J. Warner, Garden Grove; O. F. Britton, Indianapolis; W. R. Bird, F. M. Palmer, E. L. Townsend, R. R. Bourne, Los Angeles; H. C. Howard, Hot Springs, Arkansas.

Shortly after the calling of the roll, President White delivered his annual address, in which he said:

GENTLEMEN: I feel that our society yet needs a more sure foundation in the hearts and minds of the dentists of Southern California, so I hope you will bear with me while I try to perform the task of riveting more firmly on your minds a clear perception of the great necessity for more attention, more energy, more spirit and force being thrown into our society. Every one of you can do something to make our meetings interesting and beneficial. What do we live for? Do we live for ourselves alone? If your most supreme good is to be obtained by keeping aloof from one another, then let us dissolve this little band of earnest workers who have labored for the past four years to establish a society in Southern California; let us return to our laboratories, close ourselves in, and resolve that we will know nothing but what we obtain at home or learn as chance is propitious, and casts a pearl of wisdom now and then into our supremely selfish laps. Two dentists, however limited be their general information of the profession, cannot converse five minutes together on their methods of practice and plans of procedure in their laboratory but they will benefit each other. If you wish to obtain the points of skill, you must learn all you can and then tell all you know to the members of the Southern California Odontological Society. For just so sure that two candles can't give more light than one, and certain as it is that yours gives less after having lighted your neighbor's, just as sure are you to be benefited by this course. This is a self-evident proposition, and needs no argument to make it clear as sunlight. The dentist who neglects or refuses to attend the meetings of some society not only loses that which he might gain from others, but he smothers up under his selfishness the little grain which is so precious. Such a one is unfitted to associate with his fellow practitioners. He is unfitted for the trying responsibilities of his position. He is unfitted for even the position of a good neighbor. He is unworthy of the confidence and esteem of his patrons or the public at large. And the name of any dentist who steadily and persistently refuses to connect himself with a dental society should be made known to the public as one who refuses to take the means placed before him to enable him to do that justice to his patients in his operations which they have a right to expect and demand.

At 11 o'clock the dentists adjourned to the office of Dr. White, where illustrations were given by several of the dentists on special subjects. A number of the papers announced in yesterday's HERALD were read during the afternoon and evening. Today the session will close with the annual election of officers.

To the Mercy of the Court.

Yesterday the trial of James Payne was concluded before Judge Cheney. Payne was charged with attempting to steal a watch and chain from the person of a man in an Alameda-street saloon. The testimony as to the attempt was positive, but there were mitigating circumstances which led the jury in rendering a verdict of guilty to recommend the prisoner to the clemency of the Court. Sentence will be passed at a future date.

Pullman Passengers.

The following Pullman passengers left for the North and East yesterday: Mrs. Norton, C. L. Mixer, Captain Barrett, Mrs. Reive, Mr. Buncher, J. A. Rush, Mrs. Ferguson, Mr. Palmer, Mr. Norris, Mr. Wilson.

BROKEN PLEDGES.

How Has the Administration Kept Its Promises?

ITS CIVIL SERVICE RECORD.

Platform Pledges Flagrantly Violated by the Republican Executive.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.]

PHILADELPHIA, October 1.—The National Civil Service Reform League met in annual session here today. Following are extracts from the annual address of its President, Hon. George William Curtis, of New York:

The speaker began with a statement as to the explicit pledges of the Republican platform in the last National campaign, and the reiteration of those pledges by President Harrison to preserve and extend civil service reform in letter and spirit. Mr. Curtis' long address was nearly all devoted to inquiry as to whether or not those pledges had been fulfilled. As a signboard to show in what direction he was going, the speaker pointed out that during the first five months of the present Administration Assistant Postmaster-General Clarkson removed fifteen thousand fourth-class postmasters, or more than one-fourth of the entire list. He said it is not an answer to say that civil service reform was not favored by the majority of the people. The only way in which the views of the majority can be known is by the result of the election, and this Administration was elected on a platform as distinctly pledged to civil service reform as to protective tariff. Whether or not it is the wish of the majority, it is certain that the Chief Executive stands solemnly pledged to it.

The speaker then quotes from Administration newspapers in various parts of the country jeers and words of contempt for reform in the civil service; touches upon open adverse declarations, or significant silence, in various recent Republican gatherings and conventions, and finds that eminent members of the party, official and otherwise, openly spurn such reform. Even in the Cabinet there are members who decline to give open adherence to it. The address then continues as follows:

"While this is the public sentiment of the party as revealed in all the ordinary methods, what is its executive actions? Does that conform to the platform promise and the President's pledge? The knowledge of every citizen in his own community answers. The daily record of the newspapers for seven months answers. The general political proscription policy which President Harrison, when a Senator, defined as 'the frank and bold, if not brutal, method of turning men and women out simply for political opinion, the clean sweep which is proceeding in the Postoffice Department; the alarm which pervades every branch of service; the open, flagrant contempt for public opinion, for private information and for party promise, which was shown in the appointment of the late Commissioner of Pensions; executive refusal to include the Census in the civil service rules, and the removal of public officers conspicuously fitted by character, ability and experience, who have absolutely and confessedly disregarded politics in their devotion to official duty and public service,—all these facts, and such as these, answer this question. How has executive action conformed to party promise and the President's pledge?"

Further along he said:

"The President has selected an admirable Civil Service Commission; every member of it is a sincere believer in the necessity and practicability of reform, and its vigilance and vigor are the best earnest of its effective service. He has refused also to extend the time appointed for including the railway mail service within the rules, and he has authorized the publication of eligible lists. Besides these few executive acts, the significance of which is destroyed by the general executive course, there is little that shows any effective party regard for the resounding promises of the platform."

The speaker finds, however, that reform of the civil service is making headway as a sentiment among the people. As with all progress worth fighting for the contest is stubborn and resolute; delays and defeats are inevitable, but temporary advance sure.

THE NAVASSA RIOT.

Particulars of the Uprising of Negro Laborers.

BALTIMORE, October 1.—The first authentic information about the recent riots on Navassa island was received here last night in a letter from Dr. Smith, Acting Superintendent of the Navassa Phosphate Company, who, with C. W. Roby, mine boss, and one other official, the only surviving officers of the bloody affray, have taken refuge on the British man-of-war Forward, which came to their assistance. Dr. Smith writes that on the morning of the 14th of September, the negroes arose in insurrection and killed four officers—Thomas N. Foster, Joseph Fales, James Mahon and William T. Shea. Roby was first assaulted in the diggings, and left for dead. At noon the men congregated in front of the Superintendent's house and refused to work. When Jones attempted to arrest one of the ringleaders he was knocked down, and in a few minutes a howling mob surrounded him. He managed to get to the house, where the other officers sought shelter, through volleys of rocks and other missiles hurled at them. He took refuge in the upper story of the Superintendent's house, and opened fire on the mob. The battle lasted three hours with an occasional negro wounded, when the inmates were startled by the explosion of a dynamite bomb on the lower porch. This was soon followed by another, until there was a continual roar of dynamite. When the officers tried to seek another shelter Foster was butchered with knives, and Joseph Foles chopped to pieces with axes. Wm. Shea and James Mahon were also murdered. All the murdered men are Baltimoreans. The negroes still have possession of the island.

WHOLESALE ROBBERY.

Aims and Objects of the Sugar Trust Manipulators.

NEW YORK, October 1.—The extraordinary fluctuations in the price of Sugar Trust certificates in the stock market during the last three days, has opened the eyes of the public to a new danger. The insiders who control this gigantic monopoly are apparently not alone satisfied with robbing the poor man of his savings by putting up the price of an article of necessity in order to increase their own enormous wealth, but they must also manipulate their stock in the market in such a manner as to deceive interest purchasers, and ruin honest investors in their securities. In the opinion of the shrewdest judges in the "street," the course of the Sugar Trust stock from the time it was put upon the market, almost a year ago, up to the present, shows that it has been manipulated with this end in view, and recent events have confirmed the suspicions that have been openly expressed for six months past. Two and three weeks ago several of the most prominent commission houses on the street began to warn their customers that there was something wrong with the Sugar Trust, and advised them to sell out if they were carrying any, and to let it alone for the future, for the sugar kings were after their money, and they would get it, too, if the outside speculative community dabbled in the stock any longer.

THE SILVER QUESTION.

How it Affects the Industries of the Nation.

ST. LOUIS, October 1.—The Call and Address Committee of the National Silver Convention met this afternoon in consultation with Congressman R. P. Bland, of Missouri, and Colonel Egan, of Colorado. The address as prepared covers the silver question as it concerns the welfare of the various industries of the country. Particular stress is laid upon the subject in its connection with the agricultural industry of the United States, and statistics are given showing the manner in which the American farmer and laborer is brought into competition with the Hindoo laborers of India, the latter not only being able to shut the American farmer out of the markets of Europe, but being able also to ship even to the markets of New York, Chicago, St. Louis and other American centers. The question is given its broadest possible scope, and is strongly emphasized. The committee also fixed representation at twenty delegates for each State and Territory, and empowered and requested the Governors of the same to appoint twenty delegates and twenty alternates. The right was reserved for the Executive Committee to appoint one hundred delegates-at-large from the United States. The Finance Committee meets Friday of this week, and the Transportation and other committees are getting their work in hand.

ARTFUL DODGERS.

Evasive Testimony Before the Interstate Commission.

CHICAGO, October 1.—The Interstate Commerce Commission listened to a lot of testimony regarding alleged violations of the law in regard to through joint rates by the Chicago and Alton, all in the shape of rumors.

Chairman Midgley, of the Western Freight Association, gave the origin of the stop-over privilege for stock and grain at Kansas City, and his answer to a question disclosed the fact that from a period of ten days originally it had been subsequently extended to thirty days, later to six months, and he admitted finally that grain has been shipped on bills four years old.

F. C. Mayley, joint agent of the Western Freight Association at Kansas City, occupied nearly two hours in dodging questions and telling rumors he had heard. According to these rumors, not only the Alton but the Rock Island and St. Paul roads were guilty of leasing cars. The rumors could not be untangled, and the matter was submitted to the Commission.

OCTOBER PORK.

A Chicago Firm Trying to Corner the Market.

CHICAGO, October 1.—Rumors of a corner in October pork, which have been flying around for several days, had a certain color given to them this morning when an injunction was asked restraining the Board of Trade from issuing certificates declaring pork smoked in October merchantable and standard. The complainant is W. S. Wallace, of Sawyer, Wallace & Co., New York. Wallace avers that he has contracts for large amounts of October pork; that under the rule as it now stands, pork packed during this month is not deliverable until it has remained in cold storage thirty days, and that the men who have sold complainant October pork, being short, are seeking this means to fill their contracts.

On behalf of defendants it is admitted that this pork must remain in cold storage thirty days, but they contend that it is delivered on contracts, and declare that the rule otherwise would inflict a hardship on the "shorts," because complainant is running a corner in October pork. Judges Tuley and Collins, before whom the matter was taken, took it under advisement and later in the day announced their decision, declining to issue the injunction prayed for.

WIPED OUT BY FLAMES.

Valuable Residences, etc., Destroyed at Grand Haven, Mich.

GRAND HAVEN, Mich., October 1.—A large portion of the best part of the residence section of this city was wiped out by fire this morning. Among the buildings burned are the Cutler House, one of the best hotels in Michigan, the residence of Dwight Cutler, a beautiful place filled with exquisite furniture, valuable pictures, and other works of art; and the residences of Mrs. Slayton, T. A. Parris, George D. Sanford, Captain McCullom, A. S. Kedzie, three churches—the First Reformed, Unitarian, and Methodist—besides thirty other residences. The loss is half a million.

Public Debt Statement.

WASHINGTON, October 1.—The following debt statement was issued today: Interest bearing debt, principal, $862,948,502; interest, $9,553,759; total, $872,502,261. Debt on which interest has ceased since maturity, principal and interest, $2,050,394. Debt bearing no interest, principal, $762,223,212.97. Total debt, principal, $1,627,069,140.23; interest, $9,706,728.59; total, $1,636,775,868.52. Total debt less available cash items, $1,116,599,959.71; net cash in the treasury, $46,544,428.75. Debt less cash in treasury, October 1, 1889, $1,070,055,530.96. Debt less cash in treasury September 1, 1889, $1,083,740,652.21. Decrease of debt during month, $13,685,094. Decrease of debt since June 30, 1889, $6,591,090.49. Total cash in treasury available for reduction of the debt, $420,175,909.11. Total cash in treasury, as shown by Treasurer's general account, $637,540,530.61.

An Infected Vessel.

NEW YORK, October 1.—The bark Jane Lowe, eight days overdue from Havana, arrived today. There were reports of yellow fever raging on the vessel, and that all hands had been stricken down. The stories were exaggerated. One of the sailors, E. Spardt, was sick from it seven days, and escaped and jumped overboard. Two other sailors were stricken down by fever, but recovered.

Fred Redmond, a native of Illinois, of Vernon, aged 25, to Mary Vance, a native of Ohio, of Vernon, aged 20.

ADVERTISE your wants in the HERALD classified columns; sure returns.

No Habeas Corpus This Time.

An attempt was made yesterday to get Mrs. Sample, the Voodoo priestess, out of jail again on a plea of habeas corpus. She is charged with forging a will of the late barber, Susand, and was taken out of prison some time ago on a writ of habeas corpus. She at once went to cover and remained perdu for weeks, in spite of all efforts to unearth her. The application for the writ was denied yesterday and she was remanded to the care of Captain Darcey, of the County Jail.

SKINS ON FIRE.

Agonizing, itching, burning, and bleeding Eczema in its worst stages. A raw sore from head to feet. Hair gone. Doctors and hospitals fail. Tried everything. Cured by the Cuticura Remedies for $6.

CURED BY CUTICURA.

I am cured of a loathsome disease, eczema, in its worst stage. I tried different doctors and been through the hospital, but all to no purpose. The disease covered my whole body from the top of my head to the soles of my feet. My hair all came out, leaving me a complete raw sore. After trying everything I heard of your CUTICURA REMEDIES, and after using three bottles of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, with CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP, I find myself cured at the cost of about $6. I would not be without the CUTICURA REMEDIES in my house, as I find them useful in many cases, and I think they are the only skin and blood medicines.

ISAAC H. GERVAN, Wurtsboro, N. Y.

Burning and Itching.

I was sick in the fall of 1888 with a burning and itching so bad that in three weeks I was covered with a rash, and could not sleep nights or work days. Some doctors thought it might be salt rheum (eczema), and said they had never seen anything like it before. I received no help from any of them, or from any medicine that I could get hold of until I tried your CUTICURA REMEDIES. After three weeks' use I was able to work, and kept getting better, until I am now entirely cured. I recommend them to all suffering with skin diseases.

C. E. OSMER, Taftsville, Vt.

Most Intense Itching.

I have used the CUTICURA REMEDIES successfully for my baby, who was afflicted with eczema, and had such intense itching that he got no rest day or night. The itching is gone, and my baby is cured, and is now a healthy, rosy-cheeked boy.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1889.

They Point a Fallacious Moral.

That the newspapers of the East see many of their best citizens depart for California with great regret is beyond question, and we encounter frequent evidences of that fact in the journals published in that section. A Sacramento paper was at great pains to collect the statistics of the "bursted paper town" boom which were presented at the State Board of Equalization for the purpose of reducing our assessment, and the facts embodied in its article, afterwards elaborated by the San Francisco Bulletin, are being extensively copied from Maine to the Gulf.

The Bucksport (Me.) Clipper, of September 21st, eagerly reproduced these statistics, with some sage reflections of its own, as thus:

The stay-at-home friends of the numerous Maine men who invested heavily in California lands, can read the following and congratulate themselves that they were listed among the old fogies:

Because a patch of sand lies under a cloudless sky it is not necessarily valuable real estate, as the people who invested in real estate in Southern California not long ago are finding out. Before the California State Board for the equalization of taxes, which is now in session, some interesting statements are coming out. One piece of land in Los Angeles county that sold two years ago for sixteen thousand dollars, has since returned to its owner for six thousand dollars, the face of the mortgage which he had.

It is pretty safe to assume that, notwithstanding the melancholy picture drawn in the foregoing, it would require a pretty strong traction to draw a whilom inhabitant of the Pine Tree State from Los Angeles back to his old home. It is unpleasant to be caught in a boom, but it is infinitely more uncomfortable to be caught in a blizzard.

Our Maine contemporary by no means exhausted its moralizing tendency in the choice extract we have already given. It goes on to say:

The history of the collapse of this real-estate boom, which was so flourishing two years ago, has its lesson. Because a new region is "booming" as it is called, is no sure sign that that region is on the steady march of progress. Some careful business men said two years ago that they did not care to invest in Southern California because there was, and probably always would be, too much sand and too few people there; but other people inferred because the place was booming, that it had a conspicuously great future before it. There are some places that are bound to "boom" safely and continuously because they have the location, the surroundings and the natural advantages; and there are other places that do not have these qualifications and never can go to the extent of the expectations of those interested in them. The condition of real estate in Los Angeles county shows that altogether too much was hoped for it.

The Northern California papers which devoted themselves to blazoning the facts upon which the Los Angeles assessment was reduced ten per cent. were very careful to omit mention of the circumstance that, even when reduced, it remained somewhat over ninety millions of dollars, as against only thirty-seven millions of dollars three years ago. In other words, the taxable valuation of Los Angeles county had nearly trebled in three years, and that on the most conservative estimates.

One thing carefully overlooked by the journals which have given the Eastern keynote to depreciation of Los Angeles is that this region has filled up with the most eclectic population of the United States during the past four or five years, that the city is graced by many of the handsomest business blocks in America and by innumerable residences that may fairly be called palatial, that we have ten commercial and five savings banks, which carry a larger percentage of deposits than can be shown in any banks in Northern or Central California or in Maine, that we are just completing a cable car system, built by intelligent Chicago capitalists, at an outlay of $2,000,000, that we have created a splendid street system, have just finished a beautiful city hall, and are well on the way with a court house which will be one of the most superb edifices of the kind on the continent. The Sacramento papers, and those Eastern journals which quote from them, never made the mistake of informing their readers that, "bursted boom" and all, Los Angeles is today the liveliest city in California, with only one exception, if San Francisco is an exception; and that, with three completed transcontinental railways with Los Angeles as their termini, and innumerable local ones, with too serviceable harbors on the broad Pacific, and an unrivaled ability to produce the manifold staples of commerce, corn, wine and oil, garnished by oranges, olives, figs and pomegranates, and an unapproached climate, she is determined to maintain and increase her lead.

There is no doubt that a great many foolish things were done here during the boom, but it is a fact that the paper town craze was mainly engineered by speculators from the East, who have, happily for the country, like the Arab, folded their tents and stolen away. This city and county have survived the excesses of these speculators, some of them from Maine, for aught we know. All the good they did remains with us, while we have gone through a process of liquidation which leaves us with unlimited resources and the fair face of our young city enveloped by an aureole of prosperity which will brighten as the years roll on.

Let There Be Light.

This journal has always contended that law proceedings of every kind should at least be accessible to the public. While it is neither necessary nor desirable that the prurient and nauseous details of divorce pleadings should be spread at length before the world, all the same they should be within reach of all whom either curiosity or interest lead to investigate them. The Grand Jury of the city and county of New York, in their finding in the Flack case, take the right ground. They express it as their belief that the proceedings in divorce cases should take place in open court, and declare that such an evil would be less than having them carried on and consummated in secret, frequently to the injury and without the knowledge of innocent parties, as was the case with Mrs. Flack. In that case, with the connivance of the highest officials of the State of New York, city and county, Mrs. Flack found herself divorced in her old age from the husband of her youth, and on her own petition, according to the papers in the case, and yet she had never heard the least intimation that she was in court. Her husband was the Sheriff of the city and county of New York, and her own son had been used to beguile her into signing papers of whose purport she knew absolutely nothing. A compliant judge and referee were all that were needed to consummate the outrage after the first steps had been taken. There is still a great deal of monarchical nonsense surrounding courts in this country. There is too much of the style of thing founded on traditions when the King himself sat and administered justice in Westminster Hall, and who had in addition to the ordinary prerogatives of the justiciar the divinity that doth hedge around a crown. The English judges succeeded to much of this majesty, as they were in a sense the personal representatives of the sovereign. In the United States it is high time that we should free ourselves from allegiance to monarchical ideas of courts All their acts should be in the light of day, subject to legitimate criticism and always open to inspection. If the newspapers think it subserves the public interests to report their proceedings they should be allowed to do so, and the line ought to be drawn not at the option of the judge but on considerations of the public good and decency. This Flack case will not have been without good results if it shall inaugurate an era of publicity in all divorce proceedings. In California we need it both in divorce and attachment cases. The forcibly expressed opinions of the Grand Jury of New York cannot fail to exert a great influence upon public sentiment on this matter all through the United States.

LOS ANGELES, in Southern California, is one of those places in which eastern men have freely placed their coin. Besides, there are sixty paper towns in the same county, in some of which "a cactus would blush to grow." Word now comes that the owners are asking 20 per cent. reduction from the assessment roll, and that property covered by a 50 per cent. mortgage is voluntarily abandoned. In other words, "the boom has busted."

We find the above slanderous and scurrilous paragraph in The Iron Age, a trade paper published in New York. Why should Los Angeles, when she feels that her property has been overassessed, not have the right to go before the State Board of Equalization and ask for a reduction without being subjected to low-flung abuse and lying criticism? San Francisco asked for a reduction at the same time that we did, and got it. Why is not that city held up as a bankrupt community for doing exactly what is taken as the groundwork for berating Los Angeles as a "bursted" county? Other counties asked for reduction, notably Alameda, but failed to get it. Has that fact impaired the credit or hurt the good name of those counties, and if not, why not? The Iron Age may not know it, but it is lending itself in this matter to the propagation of outrageous falsehood, conceived in malice and aggravated by the lowest and meanest phase of journalistic scoundrelism.

THE coming winter, in all likelihood, will be quite severe at the East and notably mild in California. For the first part of this prediction we have all the accepted meteorological data current on the thither side of the Rockies, the early flight of the birds south, the unusually thick coat thus early of certain animals of the chase, the actual early advent of cold weather, and the specially mild winter last year. As to the proposition in California, we base our belief on the uniform rule that any excess of cold is always compensated for in a very brief cycle in this State. Last winter having been average as to range of temperature, and the winter before unprecedentedly cold, we shall have two or three warm winters to restore the mean. There is nothing recondite in this proposition, but it is just as reliable as if it emanated from the Signal Service Bureau and were supported by the most elaborate scientific postulates.

SERIOUS disputes may arise as to the boundary line between Los Angeles county and Orange county. The bill provides that the line of demarkation shall begin at a point near the entrance to Alamitos bay, run a prescribed course to the mouth of Coyote creek, and then follow the creek to a given point. The lines as they have been run follow the section lines along the creek.

BEYOND THE ROCKIES.

State Convention of New York Democrats.

NATIONAL CAPITAL NEWS.

Activity in the Navy Department. A Novel Way of Getting a Husband.

(Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.)

SYRACUSE, N. Y., October 1.—The Democratic State Convention met here today. The convention hall was crowded when at noon Edward Murphy, as Chairman of the State Committee, called the convention to order and announced the action of the State Committee in nominating Lieutenant-Governor Edward A. Jones as Temporary Chairman. The committee's action was unanimously adopted, and a committee was appointed to escort Mr. Jones to the chair.

THE CHAIRMAN'S ADDRESS.

The Lieutenant-Governer, on taking the chair, spoke at considerable length. He referred to the last National campaign, and declared that the party had not lost faith in either its principles leaders. He eulogized ex-President Cleveland. On the subject of pensions for veterans, he said:

"When their interests were in our hands, not only all the rights but the honor of the veterans were protected. Today he who risked his life leading the forlorn hope, and was carried from the battlefield after the conflict ended, maimed for life, finds himself in the estimation of his claims on the gratitude of his country, rated no higher than the bounty-jumper and deserter, and now he confesses with shame that he helped by his vote to place in power an Administration that brands him and every comrade who holds an honorable discharge with the basest stigma of disgrace. In the political campaign of 1888 the soldier was promised pensions galore. Influenced by their prejudices, tempted by their greed, they rallied to the Republican standard by regiments. When the Administration assumed power their confidence was renewed. They felt encouraged by the appointment of one from their own ranks as Commissioner of Pensions, who upon assuming office assured his old comrades that the liberal promises he had made by authority on the stump, should be faithfully kept. He took his position with the honest intention of carrying out what he had been taught in the campaign was to be the policy of the Republican administration if elected, but he soon found out that it was intended as their policy if not elected. He was a faithful soldier who thought he was obeying the orders of his superior officer when he opened the flood gates of the Treasury."

HILL AND CLEVELAND CHEERED.

He was frequently applauded. His allusion to ex-President Cleveland evoked hearty cheering, which was continued for over a minute. At that point in his speech where he referred to Governor Hill and used the phrase, "I am a Democrat," there was also wild cheering. The entire speech was cordially received.

After appointing committees the convention adjourned until the afternoon.

On reassembling, the temporary organization was made permanent.

THE PLATFORM ADOPTED

Reaffirms the doctrines of the National Democratic platform of 1888, and says: "We do not advocate free trade, but steadfastly advocate the principles of tariff reform." President Cleveland's administration is endorsed. The Republican party is charged with obtaining power by corruption, false pretenses, intimidation and coercion of voters, unperformed pledges, and the shameless trafficking of Cabinet and other positions to the highest bidders. President Harrison is arraigned for having removed "hundreds of honest and capable officers before the expiration of their terms," in violation of his ante-election pledges. The plank dealing with the liquor question says: "We do not favor the unrestricted sale of intoxicating liquors on the one hand nor prohibition on the other. We believe the liquor traffic should be restrained and regulated by just and equitable excise laws, rigidly enforced, which should be uniform throughout the State." The Republicans of New York, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Pennsylvania are denounced for submitting or proposing to submit prohibition amendments only to defeat them at the polls. Electoral reform receives renewed pledges of support, but not as embodied in the Secton bill, which was a Republican measure, last winter. Home rule for cities and the administration of Governor Hill are endorsed.

THE NOMINATIONS.

Ex-Assemblyman Frank Rice, of Ontario county, was nominated for Secretary of State; Edward Wemple was renominated for Comptroller; Hon. Elliott Danforth, for Treasurer; Charles F. Tabor was renominated for Attorney General; John Bogart, for State Engineer and Surveyor, and Dennis O'Brien, for Court of Appeals Judge.

Adjourned sine die.

NAVAL AFFAIRS.

Commodore Walker Ordered to Do Sea Service.

WASHINGTON, October 1.—The Secretary of the Navy has relieved Commodore Walker from the head of the Bureau of Navigation of the Navy Department. The text of the order is as follows:

SIR—You will proceed to the navy yard at New York, confer with the commandant and hoist your flag on board the Chicago as acting Rear-Admiral and commander-in-chief of the squadron of Europe. You will prepare the squadron for sea with all proper dispatch, and when in all respects ready you will sail for Europe and assume command of the European station, until further orders. The squadron will for the present consist of the Chicago, Atlanta, Boston and Yorktown, to which the Enterprise will be added upon your arrival within the limits of the European station. When you have hoisted your flag you will return to Washington and temporarily resume your present duties in the Navy Department.

(Signed) BENJAMIN F. TRACY,
Secretary of the Navy.

The Secretary says the relief of Commodore Walker grew out of no personal or official differences between himself and the Commodore. The officer had been eight years at the head of the Navigation Bureau and his time would soon expire. To reappoint him for another term would mean a continuous service on shore and in the Department for twelve years, a precedent which the Secretary does not care to establish. The vessels which will be under Commodore Walker's command are the pick of the Navy, and in fact, with the exception of the Charleston and Baltimore, which have not yet been accepted, represent all of the Navy.

The Naval Inspection Board which appraised the Quinnebaug and Juniata, at New York and Portsmouth, New Hampshire, have fixed the value of the vessels at about $16,000 and $10,000, respectively.

The Inspection Board has reported to Secretary Tracy that the gun-boat Petrel, just completed at Baltimore, complies with the contract requirements in manner of construction, material and equipment.

Rumors have reached the Navy Department that the result of the engineers' computation of horse power developed by the cruiser Baltimore on her last trial, shows that she falls short of the contract requirement of 9,000, by just 33 horse power.

The whereabouts of the revenue cutter Bear has been made known to the Navy Department by Lieutenant Commander Stockton, of the Thetis. The Bear was at Point Barrow July 29th when the Thetis arrived there, and was still in port on August 8th when the latter vessel left for a short cruise to the eastward, where the whaling fleet is cruising. A site for the Point Barrow refuge station has been selected by Captain Healey, and the house was well under way while the Thetis was there. The whalers lent much assistance.

CAPITAL CULLINGS.

Echoes From the White House and Department Corridors.

WASHINGTON, October 1.—The President notified the Cabinet this morning that there would be no Cabinet meeting today, but that he would expect them to meet as usual Friday afternoon. Private Secretary Halford said today the meeting was omitted because the President saw no necessity of holding it.

The Secretary of State is informed that cholera is epidemic in Bagdad and various places on the Euphrates.

The delegates to the International American Congress will be presented to the President tomorrow and be entertained at lunch.

The American delegates to the three Americas Congress called on Secretary Blaine at noon. The conference lasted some time.

Any doubt which may have been entertained as to the reception by the Mexican Government of United States Consul Sampson at Paso del Norte, has been set at rest by the reception of the news that he has been given official information of his recognition.

The Acting Commissioner of Pensions has designated James Sheakley, United States Commissioner at Fort Wrangel, Alaska, Pension Notary to take the proper legal steps necessary in cases of applications for pensions. This is the first appointment of the kind in the Territory.

Secretary Proctor has received a letter from Governor Fowle, of North Carolina, objecting very decisively to the transfer of Chief Geronimo and his band of Apaches to a tract of land in North Carolina. The Secretary said this morning that Governor Fowle informed him that he would reach Washington today to talk over the matter personally. The Secretary also intimated that the Department would probably take no immediate steps towards the transfer, partly because of danger to the Indians' health from a change of climate, and partly to leave the matter to the action of Congress.

The Treasury Department has received a letter from the Collector of Customs at San Francisco, transmitting the appeal of Kwong Loy Kee from the assessment of duty at the rate of 20 per cent ad valorem on one barrel of fish. Appellant claims that the fish is fresh and intended for immediate consumption, and should have been passed free of duty. The department has informed the Collector that if he has no reason to doubt the statement of appellant it is the opinion of the department that the fish should be passed free of duty under the provisions of the free list, and in that event the Collector is authorized to refund the duty exacted in this case.

The President made the following appointments today:

Registers of Land Offices—Charles R. Kingsley, of Idaho, at Boise City, Idado; Horace R. Mann, of Wyoming, at Buffalo, Wyoming; Alexander L. Morrison, of New Mexico, at Santa Fe.

Receivers of Public Moneys—W. E. Griffin, of Nevada, at Eureka, Nevada; Josph Perrault, of Idaho, at Boise City, Idaho.

Henry Tarpley, of Salem, Oregon, Commissioner of Land for the District of Alaska, to reside at Ounalaska.

Elisha L. Applegate, of Oregon, Agent for the Indians of the Klamath agency, Oregon.

E. M. Hoit, Postmaster at Santa Barbara, California.

SHE GOT HER MAN.

A Kansas City Damsel Brings Her Despoiler to Time.

KANSAS CITY, October 1.—Harper Grafton was arrested today for seduction, on a warrant sworn out by Carrie Ida Cass, of Kansas City. The Sheriff found him in a suburb and brought him back on a train. At the railway station Miss Cass, her father and brother, were awaiting the faithless lover's return. They were all armed, the girl with a revolver and the two men with shotguns. The Sheriff anticipated trouble, and running his prisoner through the train the two alighted from the rear and started on a run for the jail. The Cass party followed, shooting as they ran, but inflicted no injuries on the fugitive.

At the jail the Sheriff had some trouble in opening the gate, and Miss Cass, who led her father and brothers in the race, had approached within a few feet of Grafton, when she opened fire with her revolver, wounding her lover in the arm. Finally the Sheriff succeeded in opening the gate and placed the prisoner behind the bars. The girl and her father and brother requested an interview with the Sheriff, and before long it was agreed a marriage between Miss Cass and Grafton should be brought about. A minister was sent for, and the ceremony was performed in short order. Mrs. Grafton then withdrew the complaint against her husband, and the newly-wedded pair left the jail, apparently well satisfied with the end of their romantic courtship.

Deep Harbor Convention.

TOPEKA, Kas., October 1.—The Deep Harbor Convention assembled today. Chairman Evans presented the report of the permanent committee and explained the purpose of the convention, which was to urge upon Congress the advisability of making an appropriation sufficient to construct a deep water harbor on the coast of Texas. Committees were appointed and the convention adjourned until tomorrow.

Effect of High License.

WATSONVILLE, Cal., October 1.—Today twelve saloons closed their doors as the result of high license.

BATTLE OF BALLOTS.

The New States Cast Their First Votes.

OUTLINE OF GENERAL RESULTS.

The Dakotas Pretty Solidly Republican, Montana and Washington Democratic.

(Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.)

ST PAUL, Minn., October 1.—Elections in the four new States were held today, and from present indications the vote has been a full one. The capital fight in South Dakota and Washington called out a few voters who might otherwise have been classed as stay-at-homers, while the closeness of the State acted in a similar way in Montana. Sunday school children marched in a procession during the day to influence the vote on the prohibition amendment. The two Dakotas were conceded to the Republicans early in the day, the point to be settled being only as to the size of the majority.

Interest in North Dakota was centered on prohibition, the friends of which were hopeful, and the District Judgeships. There was also much interest in the Legislature as regards its feelings for or against the Senatorial candidacy of ex-Governors Pierce and Ordway. In the Dakotas the questions to be decided were: In South Dakota, State and Legislative officers, two Congressmen and Judges; also, voting on the constitution, on the prohibition clause, the clause for minority representation in the Legislature, and on the temporary location of the State Capitol. North Dakota voted for the same officers, and also on the constitution and prohibition clause therein.

Late returns received by the Pioneer Press indicate the adoption of the prohibition proposition in South Dakota, and the defeat of the clause for minority representation.

From North Dakota returns indicate the election of fourteen Republicans and two Democrats to the Legislature. Other districts have not yet been heard from.

A Pioneer Press special from Tacoma says the completion of the Legislature must remain in doubt until the vote is fully counted. Separate articles to the constitution, embracing prohibitory and woman suffragist planks, are unquestionably defeated by a large majority.

A Pioneer Press special from Bismarck, N. D., says: At 11 o'clock few returns from the State at large have been received. The Republican Legislative ticket in this county has been elected by majorities ranging from 100 to 150. In Morton county the Republican Legislative ticket is elected, and in Stark county, where there was a sharp fight, the Republican Legislative ticket is elected. In Kidder Emmons' district the same is true, thirteen Republican candidates for the Legislature in the Bismarck Land District being elected. Prohibition is defeated in Burleigh county by 400 majority, and in the counties of the Missouri Slope by 1,500 majority. The only lawyer candidate for the State Senate, J. S. Frye (Republican), of Jamestown, seems to be defeated by his strong independent opponent, Fuller. Lamour county elected Republican candidates to the Legislature.

A GOOD DEMOCRATIC OUTLOOK.

At midnight returns to the Globe (Democratic) indicate that Washington elected a Republican Governor and Congressman by 7,000, and the Legislature by 15 a majority. Montana is close, with the probabilities in favor of the Democrats, who seem to have elected the Governor and Legislature. The Congressman is in doubt, with Carter (Republican) running ahead of his ticket. In North Dakota the Democrats get three Judges and twenty-three members of the Legislature. The vote on prohibition is very close. In South Dakota the Republicans get a clean sweep.

THE RESULT IN SOUTH DAKOTA.

MINNEAPOLIS, October 1.—The Tribune's estimate of the result in South Dakota is as follows: Up to this hour, 2 a. m., not enough details of the vote have been received to state the result in South Dakota in actual figures, but dispatches from the principal towns, including those that were candidates for choice as temporary capital, show that the Republicans have made a clean sweep of the State. The majority, as shown by the vote for Mellette for Governor, and Pickler and Gifford for Congress, will be from 10,000 to 12,000. The Republicans will have a majority in the Legislature, thus insuring the election of two United States Senators, Republican. The constitution is carried almost unanimously, and minority representation is so far in the minority as to be almost lost sight of. There is hardly a doubt that prohibition has carried. The capital question is mixed. Watertown claims to have enough to win and the other candidates make equally favorable claims, but as it appears now, Pierre is in the lead, with Huron a close second and Sioux Falls third.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 1.—The Examiner's Sioux Falls, Dak., special says: Returns from the election today in South Dakota are coming in slowly. The entire Republican ticket is doubtless elected by 15,000 majority. Prohibition has probably carried by 10,000 majority. It is impossible to determine which town has been chosen for the capital.

RESULTS IN NORTH DAKOTA.

BISMARCK, N. D., October 1.—The official count for the city shows an average majority for the Republican ticket of 163 Private telegrams from twenty-five Legislative districts show the election of sixty-seven members of the Legislature favorable to Gilbert A. Dexter for the United States Senate. Four more are known to be for Pierce in safe Republican counties, giving him seventy-one votes sure out of a total of ninety-two in both houses. Eleven county precincts and the city of Bismarck gave a majority of 449 against prohibition. The constitution carried almost unanimously.

MONTANA DEMOCRATIC.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 1.—The Examiner's St. Paul special says: Marius Dalz, Chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee of Montana, telegraphs from Anaconda that J. K. Toole, (Dem.) is elected Governor and M. Maginnis, (Dem.), Congressman by big majorities. Toole's majority is set down at anywhere from 5,000 to 6,000; that of Maginnis at between 2,000 and 3,000. The majority by which the Democratic State ticket is elected is estimated at from 3,000 to 4,000.

AUSTRALIAN SYSTEM SUCCESSFUL.

HELENA, October 1.—The election was conducted under the Australian law, and to the surprise of every one the votes were polled very rapidly, nearly all the voting being done by noon. Reports from all sections of the Territory indicate that there was no disorder of any kind in the city, scarcely a man was seen under the influence of liquor, and there were no attempts at illegal voting. The Australian balloting system proved so far as heard from a complete success. The ticket is a long one and it will be late before sufficient returns are in to know the result of Governor and Congressman.

HELENA, Mont., October 1.—Since last night the feeling throughout Montana was that the Democrats would carry the State. Bulletins from all important points after 12 today confirmed this feeling, and at 6 p. m. when the polls closed, the Democratic managers claimed the State. While not venturing on figures in this city, the Republicans scratched the ticket badly, while the Democrats voted the straight ticket. The same reports come from all over.

THE RETURNS IN WASHINGTON.

SEATTLE, W. T., October 1.—Returns are coming in slowly. Meagre reports indicate that the Republicans will carry the State by about 7,000 majority. The Legislative ticket is pretty certainly Republican. The Republican majority in King county is 800. The total Seattle vote is 5,400, an increase of nearly 2,000 over 1888. Prohibition and woman's suffrage are no doubt badly beaten. The capital question is in doubt, but Olympia is leading Ellensburg and North Yakima west of the mountains. The constitution will probably be ratified.

TACOMA, W. T., October 1.—Returns at midnight show uniformly fair Republican majorities throughout the Territory. Owing to much scratching on both sides, the results in many of the precincts and counties will not be reached before tomorrow. The adoption of the constitution is not doubted.

PORTLAND, Ore., October 1.—A heavy wind and rain storm is prevailing in Washington. Wires are down and election news will be greatly delayed.

TACOMA, W. T., October 1.—Governor Semple in an interview stated tonight: "Even at this late hour I have no reason to think I am defeated. The Legislature will certainly be Democratic on joint ballot, which will assure Washington two Democratic United States Senators.

YESTERDAY'S RACES.

Steam Navigators.

PITTSBURG, October 1.—The eighteenth annual session of the National Board of Steam Navigation opened here this morning, with sixty-four delegates present from all parts of the country.

President Cheney, of New York, in his annual address, declared that stern lights should be shown by all vessels, especially sailing craft, and the smaller the craft the larger the light. He recommended, moreover, that the Government offer a standing reward for all wrecks picked up. He suggested that some action be taken in relation to running in the fog.

General James S. Negley, of New York, addressed the meeting eloquently, advocating the improvement of railroad and steamship facilities by the Government and capitalists of this country.

Secretary Bryant offered a resolution asking for a National board to coöperate with steamboat men, with the view of having them placed on the same basis as the railroads under the Interstate Commerce Law, as regards rates. The resolution was referred to a committee which is to confer with the Interstate Commerce Commission, and ask that the rate clause be enforced.

The Louisiana Frauds.

NEW ORLEANS, October 1.—The Grand Jury this morning was charged by Judge Marr to investigate the fraudulent issues of bonds, etc. It is understood that nine indictments were found today against some person or persons, charged with fraud and embezzlement. It is believed Treasurer Burke is the party in each case. The impression prevails that more indictments will be returned against him.

Forfeiture Suits Begun.

PORTLAND, Ore., October 1.—Proceedings began today before Judge Sawyer in the cases of the United States against the four military wagon road companies of this State to forfeit their land grants.

COAST CULLINGS.

Tragical Death of a Bay City Physician.

DR. SHORB FOUND DEAD IN BED.

An Overdose of Chloroform Killed Him—Wirings From the State Capital.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.]

SAN FRANCISCO, October 1.—Dr. J. C. Shorb, one of the most prominent physicians in the city, was found dead in a lodging-house this afternoon. A small bottle of chloroform was found near him. It is believed he took the drug to induce sleep, and was overcome by it.

Dr. Shorb was born in Baltimore, Md., fifty-three years ago, and graduated at the age of 21 from the Medical Department of the University of Pennsylvania. A few years later he married Miss Sophia Dallas, of the Dallas-Bache family, of Philadelphia, and then entered the army as a surgeon. In 1861-2 he was stationed at Benicia barracks, and at the end of 1862 he resigned to take up practice in San Francisco. He was successful from the start, and with his brother was prominent in society and politics for many years. He served two terms on the Board of Health and has been delegate to nearly every important Democratic convention for twenty years. In 1876 he was sent to the National Convention that nominated Samuel J. Tilden, and last fall his name was on the Cleveland electoral ticket.

THE STATE CAPITAL.

Money for Los Angeles County and Other Matters.

SACRAMENTO, October 1.—Controller Dunn today drew his warrant in favor of Los Angeles county in the sum of $101,000, for 100 bonds, issued August 3, 1889, and maturing in January, 1907. The money was derived from the sale of bonds, and is to be used in the erection of the new Court House.

J. B. Haggin has begun suit against the California Pacific Railroad Company for $400,000, balance claimed by plaintiff to be due on a judgment of $1,083,717, rendered plaintiff against the defendant in 1884.

The Supreme Court having decided that Governor Waterman has not the power to appoint State Library Trustees, and that the appointments must be made by a joint session of both Houses of the Legislature, the Governor today issued Commissions to the Trustees elected by the last Legislature, which commissions he had withheld, pending the decision.

Trick McSorley, Sacramento's third baseman, left for St. Louis tonight, having been released. No one has yet been secured to fill his place, but it is stated that Selna, late of the Stocktons, will be signed.

The seventeenth annual session of the State Grange met here today. Three hundred delegates were present. Worthy Master Overheiser presided. Committees were selected under the usual heads. This evening Joseph H. Sims, of Sacramento Grange, delivered an address of welcome, to which Hon. George Steele, of Arroyo Grande Grange, San Luis Obispo county, responded.

Contemptuous Lawyers Cinched.

SAN DIEGO, October 1.—W. H. Ecker and W. H. Dodson, attorneys, and Mc-G. Bruce were today convicted of contempt of court. Ecker and Dodson are attorneys for Wellington Stewart, on trial for criminally assaulting a little girl, and it was shown that they attempted to have the mother of the girl remove her outside of the jurisdiction of the court to prevent her testifying against Stewart. Dodson was sentenced to pay a fine of $550 and serve five days in the County Jail. Ecker received a fine of $100 and five days' imprisonment. Bruce was fined $25.

I. O. G. T. Meeting Postponed.

FRESNO, October 1.—Many members of the Grand Lodge, I. O. G. T., arrived last evening for the purpose of attending the annual Grand Lodge meeting, which was to have commenced this morning. The grand officers met this forenoon, but owing to the fair being in progress, concluded to postpone the meeting until Tuesday, October 8th.

Barn and Horses Burned.

VISALIA, Cal., October 1.—Fire last night destroyed a barn with contents, including six horses, on the ranch of J. M. Carty, near town. The loss is estimated at $4,000. George Webb, foreman of the ranch was severely burned while trying to save the horses.

Bay City Briefs.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 1.—California Commandery No. 1, Knights Templar, left this city this morning for the Triennial Conclave at Washington. There were about 150 Sir Knights and ladies in the party.

The Canuck, a new character play, was presented for the first time at the Alcazar theater in this city, last night, with McKee Rankin in the title role. The piece was favorably received.

Bids for Canal Construction.

MAXWELL, Cal., October 1.—Bids were opened today for the construction of the first seven miles of the Central canal. The lowest bid was that of the San Francisco Bridge Company, for $213,000. The contract will be awarded them.

Powderly Denounces His Enemies.

ST. LOUIS, October 1.—The General Executive Board of Knights of Labor began its session here today. General Master Workman Powderly said the session was a regular one. Referring to the reports that the anti-Powderly people would bring charges against him, he said he had come with a trunk full of papers bearing on the great Southwestern strike, and stood ready to answer all charges. He said he was opposed to the appointment of Furlong as chief of the Government Secret Service. His reason is Furlong's persecution of the men engaged in the Southwestern strike who were innocent of all wrong-doing. His protest, he said, is made both as an individual and as spokesman of the Knights of Labor. Tonight Powderly addressed a mass meeting of local assemblies, and boldly denounced his enemies.

A Superannuated Actor.

NEW YORK, October 1.—An old white-haired man, with a long silver beard, dropped into police headquarters tonight. He said he was Wellesly Venna, an actor, and at one time owned the Metropolitan Theatre, at Sacramento, California. He left the stage at the breaking out of the war and fought under Farragut, being wounded in the left leg, which left him a cripple and incapacitated him from performing on the stage. He had, however, amassed some money, which kept him for years. He came here, he said, from Baltimore to place himself in the care of the Actors' Fund society, and to be lodged in their Home. Venna is 75 years old. He was cared for by the police, and will be sent to the society's rooms tomorrow.

A G. A. R. Defaulter.

ST. LOUIS, October 1.—W. C. Smith, a well known man in local politics and a prominent G. A. R. man, went on a vacation several weeks ago. As his absence was prolonged, the officers of Harry P. Harding Post, G. A. R., began an investigation, which resulted in the discovery that Smith had departed with every dollar in the treasury. The Post will be reimbursed by Smith's bondsmen. The amount of his shortage is stated at $1,200.

Atchison Affairs.

BOSTON, October 1.—At the Atchison directors' meeting today, the committee on organization and consolidation reported that the consolidation of the three California lines into one company, would go into effect this week. The Atchison is paying off coupons. The funds to meet the payment were deposited in banks last Saturday.

Paying Promptly.

CHICAGO, October 1.—The first claim against the Rock Island road growing out of last Tuesday's suburban accident, was filed today and promptly paid. The estate of William A. Mulcahy, who was killed, was entered for administration by his father. The only property to administer was a claim for $5,000 against the railroad company, this being the maximum amount of damage fixed by law for the loss of life in a railway accident. The company's attorneys paid the claim in full.

DID GLADSTONE WRITE IT?

Italy Condemned for Joining the Triple Alliance.

LONDON, October 1.—A great deal of interest and comment has been excited by the publication in the Contemporary Review of a long article, the authorship of which is ascribed to Gladstone, though no very convincing reasons therefor are given. The writer strikes out boldly in a powerful condemnation of Italy's course in joining the Triple Alliance, which places her in a position she has no right to occupy. Italy, he declares, owes her independence, which means everything of value she possesses, to France and it would be the gravest scandal in the history of Italy if she should become enveloped in the fight against France. The Government of King Humbert was not menaced, and there existed no state of affairs upon which it could base an excuse for entering into a warlike combination, whose aims were palpably directed toward an armed conflict contemplating the conquest and degradation of France. Moreover Italy has nothing to gain by such an alliance or the victories it might achieve in the warfare its instigators are seeking, and ere long may rue the day she permitted herself to be used as a catspaw on the strength of promises that will never be fulfilled. In conclusion the article demands to know whether or not England is bound by any agreement to aid in the objects of the alliance or to give countenance to its acts. If she has been committed the people of the British Empire are entitled to know by whom and with what prospects of advantage to their country. The article is sure to bring out a semi-official denial or an avowal of England's participation in the triple compact, and some interesting revelations are among the possibilities.

Cable Flashes.

LONDON, October 1.—Gladstone is recovering from his cold, though he is still confined to his room.

ROME, October 1.—An infernal machine was discovered near the palace today. The discovery was made just in time to avert a disaster.

STUTGART, October 1.—A train ran off the track near Wild Park station today and rolled over the embankment. Many persons were killed and injured.

Three carriages crowded with passengers were smashed into fragments. The work of extricating the injured from the wreck was extremely difficult and proceeded but slowly. An official report says that seven persons were killed and forty-three injured. Many of the latter will probably die.

Whitehead, third baseman of the San Francisco base ball club has been laid off at his own request by Manager Finn for the remainder of the season. For several months Whitehead has been a very sick man.

THE MUIR GLACIER.

A Los Angeles Girl Describes It.

Miss Grace Stewart, a Los Angeles young lady, made the trip to Alaska this year, and has given her impressions of what she saw in a very interesting series of papers published in the San Francisco Mining and Scientific Press. From the last contribution we take the following graphic description of the famous Muir glacier giving birth to an iceberg:

We stepped into the little boats, and in a few minutes were on shore, which seemed like a foreign land. Following a little cañon, we were soon hurrying over the rough and sharp-edged rocks, which was only a thin carpet over a mountain of ice. It seemed more like being on a glacier when we reached the clear, white, honey-combed ice, free of stones and boulders. Keeping on, we soon reached a comparatively high point overlooking a small portion of the icy river; there we stood for some time gazing at the wonders about us. A portion of the crystal river is heaped into rounded hills and knolls; a greater space in the centre, which is stated by scientific men to move sixty feet a day, is splintered into thousands and millions of spires and pinnacles from ten to thirty and even forty feet in height, shaded from a deep sea blue at the base to a silvery white at the summit. Over the whole of the glacier there are thousands of crevices, and rushing water can be heard dashing and gurgling in the depths below. One must be on the lookout where he puts his alpenstock, for often you come suddenly upon holes not more than a foot across the top that extend to the very bottom of the river. While roaming around we discovered a well about four feet in diameter; one by one we lay flat down and looked into one of God's wonders—a beautiful sight. The hole gradually grew smaller as it descended; looking through a small space we could see that it again widened and branched off, we knew not where. About twenty feet from the surface large drops of water, more beautiful than diamonds or emeralds, trickled out of the blue ice, striking pinnacle after pinnacle, separating, then dropping far out of sight. A large stone was thrown down which bounded from side to side; then hark! it strikes a bench, pieces of ice and snow go rattling down, down, down, and splash in the running river a hundred feet or more below. After tearing our overshoes to pieces and getting mired down in the light glacier mud, we retraced our steps, walking about on the sandy beach lined with small stranded pieces of ice, watching the front of the glacier, which I have before stated was a precipice 300 feet above the water. Small pieces of ice came tumbling down, and we know that larger ones will soon follow. There! it cracks, totters, waves forward and backward, slowly at first, then faster, till it plunges down with a terrible crash—a piece of deep blue ice larger than our ship. It sinks out of sight, rises up like a mountain, sinks and rises again, then floats slowly toward our ship, but she is away far enough to be out of danger.

The water which was before so calm and still rises like a heavy sea, the waves come faster and faster, followed by others, till we are obliged to run up a rocky cañon to keep from being drawn into the cold, icy waters. This heavy crash loosened many other large pieces, and for a moment it seemed as though the whole front was coming down before us. No sooner do these rise from their watery home than piece after piece come cracking down upon them, sending icy splinters far up in the air. All this, with the Fairweather range in the distance, the highest peak—Mount Crillon, 15,900 feet—perfectly white with snow, reaching far up into the clouds makes one feel as though he could not speak, but stand motionless, listening to the unaccustomed sounds about him. The half day at Muir glacier was the grandest of all and makes one feel more than repaid for all the miles he has traveled. We were sorry to leave that spot. As the ship swung round and plodded through the ice field again, we took a long last look.

There's not a charm that lights the face
With so ineffable a grace,
As sweet, pink lips and ivory teeth;
And nothing now, beneath the sky,
Can beauties such as these supply,
Save SOZODONT, that wears the wreath.

THE OLD AND THE NEW.

Jake Tyner's Last Effort to Have an Old-Fashioned Spree.

There are few better raconteurs in this bailiwick than ex-Sheriff Rowland. Living with him on his ranch at the Puente is an old-timer who is a character in his way. He came here long before the Forty-niners, and has all the peculiarities of the early frontiersmen. Years ago he used to be in the habit of visiting the city about once a year and putting up at the "U. S." to enjoy a good, rollicking, old-fashioned vacation. He was not one of those maundering or quarrelsome fellows when on a spree, to whom everybody gives a wide berth. On the contrary his potations brightened him up and brought to the surface a rich mine of quaint humor and lively anecdote that made him most enjoyable company. His trapping reminiscences and bear stories were real gems in their way and quite out of the ordinary routine. He always declared that the beaver had a language of his own, and could telegraph miles up a river to the other beavers when a trapper hove in sight. He never harpooned "bars," like old Dan'l Sexton, but he would swear by the big boot in Chatham street that he once killed a grizzly in the San Antonio cañon by impaling him upon a staff burnt sharp at the end as he charged upon him. But to our present story. Rowland says that old Jake Tyner came to him a few months ago, and said he thought he would go to town for a run. To the great astonishment of the ex-Sheriff, Tyner had not made one of his periodical visits to the city for about six years. The last time he had been here he was annoyed to find so many changes, and had about made up his mind that he would stick to the ranch, where he was familiar with every object, and was not shocked at the many improvements and innovations made, because they had gone on gradually under his eye.

Well, Jake saddled up one morning and started for town. His habit had been to stay away two or three weeks when he came here, so that when he returned this time to the ranch the day after he had started, the unusual fact was the subject of much comment amongst the old rancheros. No one was more astonished at his sudden return than Mr. Rowland, whose curiosity was excited to know the reason. Jake had come back perfectly straight, and that was another puzzle which required explanation.

"How is it, Jake," said Rowland to him one day, "that you made so short a stay at Los Angeles when you went there the other day?"

"Well, Bill, I'll tell you all about it. You see, the time before when I went thar, I found things changing mighty rapidly. Thar was big buildings with all sorts of chicken fixins on 'em in place of the comfortable 'dobes I usedter go to. Then it seemed, somehow, hard to run across the old fellers I usedter know. Strangers here, and strangers thar and strangers everywhar. I sed to myself if this thing keeps up thar'll be no use in old Jake comin' back to Los Angeleese; but I managed to pull through, for I did dig up some of the old stock and hed a good time with them. But this last trip knocked me clean out. When I got to town, thinks I, the blem'd city isn't as far off as it usedter be, for I hadn't rid the old-time distance. But, thinks I, it's shorter on account of the short-cut roads they've made. Then agin, when I come to look at the town I was puffeckly nonplusshed. I didn't know a durn'd building in it. I hunted round for the "U. S.," but couldn't find anything that looked like it. Then I seed a place that looked like as if a traveller mought find refreshments thar, so I went up to the counter and told the barkeep to give me some of his best pisen. The feller looked at me as if I was a horse-thief, and says he, 'Old man, you're mistaken in the place. We don't sell liquor here, and no liquor is sold in this city.' This was a stunner, sure enough—no 'hardware' sold in Los Angeleese! I larfed at the feller, and told him he was playin' me. But he stuck to it. I goes to another likely looking place and another. But they all told the same story. Thinks I, if Los Angeleese has come to this that a feller can't get a drink in it, why this child goes back to the ranch. So I goes to where I had tied my horse, got onto him, and come back."

"You couldn't have gone to Los Angeles, Uncle Jake, or you would have found plenty of places to get a drink. Perhaps you made a mistake and only went as far as Pasadena."

"Oh, no; I know Pasadena. There's only two or three little stores there and a large frame school-house on the other side of the road. No; this was a great big brick city, with streets and hotels, just as I expected Los Angeles would be if they kept on making changes and putting up new buildings as they was doing when I was thar before. But, Billy, I've seen enough of new Los Angeleese as it is. I'll never go thar agin. When it has come to the pass that a feller can't get a drink thar, I guess I'll make up my mind to stay where I am till I pass in my checks."

"And," says Billy, "you can't make Jake believe that he made a mistake and only went as far as Pasadena, which he believed was Los Angeles transmogrified. The chances are that Jake will never make another trip to town."

THE ESCONDIDO FAIR.

How Things Went the First Day.

Special Correspondence of the HERALD.

ESCONDIDO, October 1, 1889.

Presumably the managers of the Fair were awake all last night, for they awoke every sleeper in the town at 5 o'clock this morning with a salute of giant powder that rattled houses as well as brains. This primitive substitution of the cannon was all right, as the cartridges went right off and inaugurated the first day of the Fair. The first day, but not the opening day by any means. With country shrewdness, the men at the helm saw that if today were made the first day or the opening day (I am getting mixed) why tomorrow would not be. That is, people and exhibits would hold back for the second day. Today is therefore a sort of a gathering of the clans for the joys to come. And people are coming in apace. It is a regular jubilee. The programme for the formal opening tomorrow is as follows: Music, Escondido Cornet Band; chorus, Escondido Musical Union; address of welcome, Rev. J. N. Turrentine; response, Frank A. Kimball; song, Musical Union; music, band.

It is impossible to say much of the exhibits, as the arrangement of them is not yet complete. In horse flesh Los Angeles is represented by C. F. Durfee's string of five, including Raymond and Sunrise. Compton sends Danger, Seabright and Willie Clay.

ON THE TRACK.

Two o'clock brought in the speeding. A trotting race was substituted in place of the running race. The entries were as follows:

No. 13. Trotting race, 2:40, open to all; purse $200. Entries: Othello, brown stallion, owned by W. K. Robinson; Silver Thread, grey gelding, by H. P. Burns—jocky color, black cap; Taps, bay mare, by James E. Brophey; Scott, bay gelding, by C. J. Couts—Treanor, jocky, colors, orange and purple, black cap; Silver Threads, owned by W. H. Stroud.

Race No. 2, pacing—One mile, best three in five; purse, $100. Entries: Silk wood, black gelding, by J. Willetts; Southern Chief, black stallion, formerly named "Tom Hal," owned by Captain Hewson; Nellie D., bay mare, by M. A. Donthett; Nellie Clay, sorrel mare, by W. W. Whitney; Olett, bay mare, by T. L. Burk; Rosemead, bay mare, owned by Geo. Vignola.

Race No. 3, running—One-half mile dash, 2-year-olds; purse, $50, first money. Entries: Juanita, sorrel mare, by M. A. Foster; Steve Stroud, bay gelding, by G. A. Stroud, colors, red; Major, bay gelding, by Capt. Jas. Hewson; Star King, bay gelding, by Tom Alvarada, red, white and blue colors.

Betting was lively and the contests spirited.

THE RESULT.

[Special to the HERALD.]

ESCONDIDO, October 1.—First race, trotting 2:40—Scott's bay gelding one, one, one; time 2:47, 2:47½, 2:50¾. Taps, bay mare, two, two, three. Silver-thread g. g. three, three, two. Othello barred.

Second race, running, half mile dash—Steve Stroud b. g. one, Rosemead b. m. two, Juanita s. m. three, Star King b. g. four, Major b. g. distanced.

Third race—Pair, N. G. Silkwood, black s. one, one, one, Sunrise s. m. two, two, two, Olett d. m. distanced, Nemi s. m. distanced, Southern Chief black s. distanced, Sunrise one. Sunrise and Rosemead, the Los Angeles horses, are owned by Geo. Vignolo. Five hundred people were at the races. At the baseball game the score was, Hamiltone, San Diego, 18; Escondido, 8.

HOW MANY WAYS CAN THIS BE READ?

THE LOS ANGELES HERALD IS BY ALL ACKNOWLEDGED have been the prime factor in the discovery and making known of the resources of this section. To its sagacious outgivings more than to any other agency our marvelous development is attributed.

THE HERALD has from its inception watched with a single eye the budding industries of this portion of the State. For each good enterprise this journal has at all times had a word of cheerful encouragement. In spite of the skeptical, it has survived to see all of its earlier predictions fullfilled to the letter.

THE HERALD to-day takes the lead in all respects among the papers of Southern California. Its first care still is the material, intellectual and social interests of its section. It aims to be truthful rather than over-zealous in its publication of news; to be conservative rather than over-sensational, in its policy; to be clean and decent, respecting the sacred precincts of the home and fireside, rather than indecently salacious in its tone.

THE HERALD gets all the news from all quarters of the globe with promptness accuracy and dispatch. Its local staff is energetic and well-trained to miss nothing of real importance to its readers. It is always alive to all public enterprises.

THE HERALD still takes pride in aiding any legitimate material, intellectual or social movement which will benefit the people. No other journal in this section approaches it in those important respects.

EXCHANGE REVIEW

NEW YORK, October 1.—The stock market maintained about the same volume of business today in the regular list, but the unlisted department was much less active, while the weak stocks of the past few days were more quiet, and moved within comparatively narrow limits, and the range of prices in most stocks was extremely small. Atchison was still the central figure in the market. The opening prices were generally lower, the declines extending to ⅜ per cent. Toward the close better feeling existed as money showed signs of easing up, and the close was dull and firm, though still at small fractions below the opening prices. The list is generally lower tonight, but there are no important declines, while Manhattan rose 2½ and Pullman 2 per cent.

Government bonds were dull and steady.

Petroleum opened steady at 98⅜c., and advanced to 99¼ in early trading. Some forced sales carried the price down to 98¾; but a sharp rally followed, and the market closed firm at 99⅛.

Stock Exchange — Opening, 98¾c.; highest, 99⅛c.; lowest, 98⅞c.: closing, 98⅞c.

Consolidated Exchange—Opening, 98¾c.; highest, 99⅛c.; lowest, 98¾c.; closing, 98⅞c. Total sales, 484,000 barrels.

MONEY QUOTATIONS.

NEW YORK, October 1.—The high rates for money on call continued very stringent in the Stock Exchange today and large amounts were loaned at the rate of 10 to 18 per cent. per annum. Late in the afternoon small loans were made at 6 per cent. and just before close it was offered at 7. The engagement of $500,000 in gold caused much apprehension, but no further shipments are expected as exchange is far below the gold shipping point.

NEW YORK, October 1.—Money on call stringent, ranging from 6@18 per cent.; closed 6@7.

Prime mercantile paper, 5¼@7½c.

Sterling exchange—Dull and steady; 60-day bills, $4.83¼; demand, $4.87¾.

Bar silver, 93c. per ounce.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 1.—Silver bars, 93@93½c. per ounce.

PROPOSALS TO TAKE AND DISPOSE OF THE SEWAGE OF THE CITY OF LOS ANGELES.

SEALED PROPOSALS WILL BE RECEIVED by the undersigned up to 10 o'clock a. m. of Monday, the 21st day of October, 1889, from any person, firm or corporation, to take and dispose of the sewage of the city of Los Angeles for a term of fifty years; said sewage to be taken at the following points, namely:

All the sewage of East Los Angeles, Boyle Heighths, at Sixth and Anderson streets; all the sewage collected at the S. W. corner of the city, from the central and western portions of the city, except the 175 inches already contracted for by the South Side Irrigation Company, be taken at the south boundary line of the city, near Figueroa street.

Parties bidding are to enter into a good and sufficient bond to relieve the city from all responsibility of the disposing of the sewage collected at above named points, for time specified.

All proposals must be accompanied by a bond or certified check, for the amount of $10,000, as a guarantee that the parties will enter into the contract, if awarded to them.

By order of the Council of the City of Los Angeles at its meeting held September 17, 1889.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF LOS ANgeles county, State of California.

Dannie L. Fest, Plaintiff, vs. Lewis L. Fest, defendant.

Action brought in the Superior Court of the County of Los Angeles, State of California, and the complaint filed in said County of Los Angeles in the office of the Clerk of said Superior Court.

The people of the State of California send greeting to Lewis L. Fest, Defendant.

You are hereby required to appear in an action brought against you by the above named plaintiff, in the Superior Court in the County of Los Angeles, State of California, and to answer the complaint filed therein, within ten days (exclusive of the day of service) after the service on you of this summons, if served within this county; or, if served elsewhere, within thirty days, or judgment by default will be taken against you according to the prayer of said complaint.

The said action is brought to obtain the judgment and decree of the Court dissolving the bonds of matrimony now existing between Plaintiff and Defendant, and that plaintiff be decreed to resume her maiden name of Annie L. Mullowny, and for all proper relief, and for costs of suit. Reference is had to complaint for particulars.

And you are hereby notified that if you fail to appear and answer the said complaint as above required, the said plaintiff will cause your default to be entered and will apply to the Court for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Given under my hand and the Seal of the Superior Court of the County of Los Angeles, State of California, this 30th day of July, in the Year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty nine.

NEWS NOTES.

The Board of Directors of the Public Library will meet this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

A musical will be given on Friday evening at Mrs. N. Catching's parlors at No. 337 Olive street.

The West End Board of Trade elects officers this evening. A full attendance of members is requested.

The Police Commission will meet today at 2 o'clock, and the Fire Commission will meet this morning at 10 o'clock.

There will be a Union Fair meeting today at 2 o'clock and all Woman Relief Corps members are expected to be present at No. 24 S. Spring street.

There will be a meeting of all the Principals of the schools this afternoon at 4 o'clock, in the rooms of the Board of Education, in the new City Hall.

The Sewer Committee of the City Council has notified the committee of citizens appointed to prepare a plan, that a meeting will be held on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Transfers of real estate yesterday amounted to $37,700, and were 52 in number. Of these 9 were for more than $1,000 in number, and 21 were for nominal considerations.

The fall business opens very encouragingly. Many of our leading houses are now opening out their fall goods, and the show windows are made attractive with the latest fads in dress goods.

Acacia Chapter, Order of Eastern Stars, and the friends of its members have arranged for a basket picnic, to be held at Redondo Beach on Saturday next. The members of the order will leave on the early train.

Workmen will commence today at the Panorama building to pack up the painting of the Siege of Paris, to ship to San Francisco, where, we understand, it will take the place of the Siege of Vicksburg, now on exhibition in that city.

A social partaking also of the nature of a reception for the pastor, will be given in the Simpson tabernacle on Hope street this (Wednesday) evening. A fine programme has been prepared and all friends are most cordially invited.

Mrs. E. Graham called upon us yesterday to say that the statement in the item about the burning of O. J. Holland's grocery store, on Monday night, was incorrect in this, that it is not true that Mr. Holland did not pay his rent. She is the landlady, and she says that he was particularly prompt in its payment.

About 10 o'clock last night a bale of hay in a barn in the rear of No. 211 S. Olive street was discovered to be on fire, but the blaze was easily extinguished before any damage was done. An alarm was rung in by telephone from the corner of Third and Olive streets to which Engine No. 3 and the Hook and Ladder Co. responded.

Some of the eastern cities have forbidden the nightly parade in the streets of Salvation Army bands, with their flags and bass drums, tambourines and cymbals. They have been the cause of many runaway accidents, and are a constant menace to people riding behind spirited horses. Religion would suffer nothing by their suppression as a street show here.

ARE your rooms rented? If not, advertise them in the HERALD. 25c. expended in that way may get you a tenant.

CRIMINAL NOTES.

A complaint was filed by J. S. Johnson, of Pico Heights, in Justice Sexton's court at the University yesterday, charging James Houston and Laura Houston with disturbing the peace.

In the case of W. F. Wheeler, charged with sending a threatening letter, Judge Cheney yesterday overruled the demurrer to the indictment, and the case was ordered on the calendar.

Dr. Frecius was arrested by Officer J. P. Wiley on Main street last night for disturbing the peace. He is a confirmed cocaine "fiend," and has been locked up in the City Jail three or four times before.

Mrs. Lottie Haumrich appeared for arraignment before Police Judge Owens yesterday upon a charge of battery preferred by a neighbor named Mrs. Mamie Bishop. She was ordered to appear for trial at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, bail being required in the meantime in the sum of $25.

Officer J. T. Conley arrested a Chinaman named Sam Lung on Main street yesterday afternoon, for malicious mischief. Sam was driving a vegetable wagon in a careless manner, and allowed his vehicle to collide with the buggy of Castner Elliott, of the First National Bank, which was standing close to the sidewalk, with the result that one of the hind wheels of the latter was taken off. Mrs. Elliott and her children were in the buggy at the time, and narrowly escaped injury.

The case against C. M. Lewis, a farmer who was charged by S. W. Liutweiler with having removed 300 sacks of mortgaged barley from his ranch near Fulton Wells, with intent to defraud him, as mortgagee, of his interest therein, which has been on trial before Justice Savage and a jury since Saturday afternoon last was brought to a conclusion yesterday. The jury after being out but five minutes returned a verdict of acquittal and Lewis was discharged.

As a sequel to the arrest of Marcus Zureti on Monday night last for battering his son-in-law, Eugene Destry, the old man swore to a complaint yesterday charging the Frenchman with disturbing his peace. When Destry appeared in the Police Court to prosecute his father-in law, he was placed under arrest and both men were arraigned upon the respective charges preferred against them, and were ordered to appear for trial at 3 o'clock this afternoon, when Judge Owens will hear both cases.

In the Police Court yesterday George Mitchell appeared before Judge Owens and pleaded guilty to the charge of "receiving money in a false character." The Court then heard the testimony of Thomas Shooter, from whom Mitchell borrowed $5 a few days ago, and Deputy District Attorney Phibbs, who was prosecuting the case, also took the stand and testified to having witnessed a similar transaction in a store on Los Angeles street, and identified the defendant as the confidence man, whom he had seen before. Upon hearing these facts, the Court sent Mitchell to jail for 150 days, in default of the payment of a fine in the sum of $150.

IS your house vacant? If so, advertise it in the "For Rent" column of the HERALD; you'll get a tenant.

BUSINESS.

How Matters Look in Los Angeles Now.

Business matters are getting finely into shape for the winter campaign in the Angelic City. The summer is passed, the hot weather is over; the seaside and mountain retreats are being abandoned, and the people are getting back to their homes and to business. On Monday the schools opened, and that is an event which nearly always attracts the wanderers to their own firesides.

The most immediate result of all this is to pretty well fill up all the homes in the city. Some one said to the writer the other day: "Is it true that the new directory of the city will contain 1,800 fewer names than that of last year?" The reply was to the effect that no decent directory of Los Angeles had ever been issued, and that if the new one is like those which have preceded it, it will not matter much what it shows or does not show; and that, moreover, if the names were taken in the height of the summer, when thousands of the people were absent from the city, it would be a wonder if there were not a larger falling off in the exhibit. If a census were taken this month, it would reveal the fact that the city is pretty well filled up with people. This fact, of course, makes more business in all lines, from that of the Chinese laundryman to that of the high-toned groceryman, and this creates a more cheerful feeling on all hands, putting a brighter aspect on all sorts of affairs.

The influx of winter sunbeam-chasers from the East has not yet set in. The city is well prepared for their reception. There are a number of fine hotels with well-sunned and well-aired rooms; and there are a still greater number of fine boarding houses, further removed from the center of the city, and where the charges are very moderate. Los Angeles is also better provided with restaurants than ever before. No city in the country has better places of this sort than this.

As to the real estate market, there are all sorts of reassuring things being said. Bona fide sales are being made almost every day, and there is an increasing inquiry for business and residence lots, improved and unimproved. Buyers are still shy and cautious, but there are more of them. In some instances these people think some other has got an advantage of him in finding the cheapest lot in the city. A case occurred last week where a lot out on Grand avenue changed hands, and at once the buyer was offered $500 advance by a covetous rival. One reason why the banks hold so large reserves is that the managers know the deposits are held here in many cases for the purchase of property, and they do not know what day very heavy demands may be made for this purpose. People are a good deal like sheep, and when they begin to buy there will be a rush in a few days. One large real estate operator told the writer a few days ago that he had been visited within a week by heavy capitalists from the East, who came here to invest in property. The Angeleño received letters of introduction from friends East, and he is advised that the newcomers bring $1,000,000 with them to put into property here.

There is only one thing that seems to militate against the prosperity of the coming winter. That is the fact that business is far duller at the East than here. A resident of this city, yesterday, exhibited to the writer a letter from a town in Southern Indiana which wails in every line of it. It states that there are good crops, but no price for any sort of produce. The letter closes with the lugubrious comment that if it were not for the pension being paid in that county the farmers could not find enough money to pay taxes. This state of affairs will prevent thousands of people in all the Western States seeking California as a home at once. All they are waiting for is an opportunity to sell out there, and one cannot find a buyer for property in depressed times.

In his rounds through the city to pick up these items the HERALD man encountered a capitalist who said to him:

"Why run about for encouraging signs of the times? They are everywhere. You published an excellent pointer in your paper yesterday. I refer to the purchase of the school bonds en bloc, $100,000 of them, by a local bank. Remember these bonds bear only 5 per cent. interest. That is the first time in the history of Los Angeles that a local bank has taken the city's bonds at par for so low a rate of interest. That bank has confidence in the future of the city. It is, too, a big feather in the bank's hat. The institution is comparatively a new one. It must have prospered to be able to buy $100,000 worth of bonds at one dash. And, by the way, what a bad break the Times made on that bond business! Why, the Council could not sell to the Cleveland bidders. They only bid for $1,000 worth of the bonds, with an option to take or leave the rest, as the Ohio men might elect. Perhaps your paper will not say that much in defense of a Republican Council, but the Council did right."

The reporter said his paper had so many openings to show the superiority of a Democratic over a Republican Council, that he thought it could afford to say the speaker thought the city dads made no blunder in this instance.

Give the Company a Chance.

Mr. Deakin, attorney for the Neales, came before Federal Judge E. M. Ross yesterday with a plea to commit the San Diego Land and Town Company officials for contempt in not paying the damages awarded by the Court some weeks ago. It was shown on the part of the company that all possible was being done to comply with the wishes of the Court, and this view of the case so impressed the Judge that he denied the application of the Neales.

The Tailors, No. 117 South Spring, next to the Hollenbeck Hotel have just received some elegant Suitings for fall and winter wear, which they are making up at very reasonable prices. In overcoatings they have some excellent selections just adapted for this climate. As tailors they are first class and have an established reputation. If you want a new suit of clothes or an overcoat it is to your interest to call on them.

Struck with a Axe.

A disgraceful family quarrel occurred last evening; the names of the parties are withheld for the present. The husband during the day had purchased a present for his wife; on his return a quarrel ensued and the wife in her rage struck the husband with an axe for not going to colton's furniture exchange 202 s. spring st. where satisfaction is guaranteed on all purchases.

Interesting.

Billings, the ice cream man, will close his place of business in the Los Angeles Theatre building today. He will open again in about ten days in the Stowell block, across the street from his old stand. Orders for ice cream can be left at Cronnis Bros., 112 South Spring, until he opens his new place.

Fall and Winter 1889-'90.

It is a well understood fact that outside of a few houses in the large cities our garments are unequalled for style, fit and workmanship. On account of our reputation for very fine high priced work many are of the impression that we make nothing else. While we keep our reputation above the usual standard we sell suits as low as $35 and trousers as low as $10. Our Fall and Winter importations of woolens are now in stock and we will be pleased to display them to intending purchasers. Polaski Bros. 114 North Main street.

CATARRH.

Catarrh is often regarded by the patient as a cold in the head, and he often expresses his astonishment at his remarkable tendency to contract a fresh cold. Indeed he declares he is scarcely free from one cold before he takes another; and he is always exceedingly careful. It is also a matter of surprise to him that the cold always seems to settle in the head and the throat.

At times many of the symptoms of catarrh may seem to abate, and the patient is led to hope that the disease is about to wear off, but another class of symptoms soon appear, and he learns to his horror that instead of recovery from the disease it is somewhat changed in its character, and has extended to the throat. A sense of weariness is sometimes felt in reading, speaking or singing, hoarseness at times occurs, a sensation of dryness is sometimes felt in the throat, or it appears that some foreign substance, as, for instance, a hair, obstructed the throat; there becomes a sense of languor and fatigue, the breath lessens upon a little exertion, a short, hacking cough, a peculiar sound in clearing the throat, a feeling as though there was not room enough in the chest to breathe; these and other symptoms occur after the disease has made considerable progress. Then it is a time when consumption is about to begin its dreadful work. Up to this point the progress of the disease may have been slow, and the patient may, in expressing his confident hope that it will "wear off," declare that he has had the catarrh for years, and has not seemed to become much worse, and trusts he will "by and by" recover. But this delusion is the grand error which has peopled our cemeteries with consumptive forms, as all forms of catarrh end finally in consumption.

The great danger, however, because the most common, is that it will extend downward and affect the lungs. In most cases of pulmonary disease catarrh is present to some degree, and in many instances it causes a large share of the patient's discomfort.

Besides these grave consequences, all of which are liable to spring from scrofulous catarrh of ozena, there are others which, if less dangerous, are sufficiently unpleasant. It occasions great unhappiness to thousands of both sexes by isolating them and preventing their settlement in life. An offensive running from the nose, with foul breath, is about as great a calamity as can befall young people. Every disease of this kind can be cured by our new system of practice.

I have seen so many of these cases cured that I do not consider any case hopeless, unless both lungs are seriously involved. Even then the Compound Oxygen and other inhalations aid us in dissolving the mucus and in contracting and healing the cavities, which nothing can do with the same success.

The very best reference from those already cured.
